

Cascade Clamps

Cascade Clamp - Cascade Manufacturing Company was founded in Portland, Oregon in 1943. They began as a small machine shop in the beginning hiring 4 individuals. Product sales for their initial year of operation totaled 60 thousand dollars. The very first recorded sales revenues involved the machining and assembly of stainless-steel valves, pipe fittings and various components. Through 5 years of operation, the business had expanded to forty employees and their annual sales volume had increased to three hundred thirty thousand dollars. Today, Cascade is among the top international producers within the material handling business.

Production and design of the company's initial hydraulic cylinder paved the way in Cascade's aggressive quest of new business possibilities. During the past 60 years, the material handling industry has developed into a highly complex area and Cascade has proudly played a part on this progress. Cascade presently continues to develop as the premier provider of lift truck attachments and different related products. The company feels confident in their potential to be able to continue to lead the way in the business by understanding client's requirements in the future and remaining competitive within the global market.

All through the nineteen fifties, Cascade began to make, design, and advertise its hydraulic attachments. A new facility was made in 1956, to house all of the plant offices and operations in Portland, Oregon, which remains to be the company's present head office. Following 15 years of business, total employees reached a hundred and eighty staff and sales had reached nearly two million three hundred thousand dollars.

1959 in Springfield, Gilbert a second manufacturing facility was built. The year 1960 marked Cascade's preliminary transfer into the international world of the material handling industry while the company established interest in the Netherlands, England, and Australia.

In 1964, the business altered its name to the Cascade Corporation. Then in the year 1965, the company went public with a preliminary offering of 200,000 shares of common stock. Ever since then the company has expanded its manufacturing facilities within the continental USA to the locations Warner Robins Georgia to go along with its already existing plants in Portland, Oregon and Springfield, Gilbert. Cascade merchandise are manufactured internationally thanks to numerous subsidiary operations. In 1994, a brand new facility was completed in Almere, the Netherlands which is Cascade's European headquarters. This facility is made to be the ultimate customer support centre.

Cascade further expanded their product base in the year 1996 and the year 1997 after buying 5 corporations, which included the Kenhar Corporation, the global leader in forks.
